

PERSONAL DATA HANDLING AUTHORIZATION

Holder's authorization for the handling of personal data

1. With this document, I acknowledge, accept and grant previous, explicit and informed approval or permission to Exsis Software and Solutions. ("EXSIS"), so that the involved data or information related to me ("Personal data"), including but not limited to not public data or information, sensitive data such as e-mail, telephone number, address, bank information that I have disclosed to Exsis Software and Solutions for the following purposes: (i) to get commercial services and products proposals, (ii) to obtain news and information about sale and products (iii) to make agreements with third persons (iii) and to purchase services or products that are offered on the website ("Website"), as well as all of the additional information that EXSIS should have access to develop its operation, be subject of any operations or set of operations such as collection, gathering, use, circulation, transference or deletion ("Data Handling"), within the terms for the individuals and the ends which are indicated in the data handling and privacy policy ("Policy"), which is available on <https://exsis.co/>.

2. The Authorization is granted for personal data that will be handled in the future and for personal data that has been handled already in the past by EXSIS, situation is considered ratified with this document.

3. Exsis Software and Solutions will take care of personal data handling in order to comply with all of/or some of the following purposes:

- To make transactions more secure and effective which are held by EXSIS. The website administration in which the user "surfs" the website to explore sales and offers that are provided by EXSIS.
- To offer all users all services and all functionalities that are suitable for the customer's interests and likes.
- To send information or messages about new products and/or services, show advertisement and special deals at the moment, banners, news about EXSIS and any other convenient information EXSIS considers suitable for the customers to know.
- To share personal data with service companies or "outsourcing" companies that contribute to improve or facilitate EXSIS operations, including methods of payment, insurances or payment management intermediaries.
- To give personal data to institutions who manage payments of products and services purchased by the users.

4. I grant EXSIS my previous, explicit and informed approval or permission to transfer, transmit, move, share, deliver, and/or to disclose personal data with a national and international scope, even to countries that do not provide suitable levels of personal data protection in order to comply with the previous purposes.

5. The information about the responsible person for personal data handling is:

Exsis Software and Solutions S.A.S.
Tax ID: 800245974
Address: Street 145 #48-16 Bogota, Colombia
Telephone number: 57 (1) 4846750

6. I acknowledge and accept that EXSIS, in compliance with what is stated on the personal data protection regulation, particularly about, act 1581 from year 2012 and Decree 1377 from year 2013, has notified me about my rights as personal data holder:

- › To know, update and modify personal data before the responsible or temporary responsible individual for data handling.
- › To request proof of authorization granted to the data handling responsible person except for the times when it is specifically exempted by law, as requirement for data handling.
- › To be informed, by the data handling responsible or temporary responsible, if required, about the use that was given to personal data.
- › To file complaints before the competent authority regarding infractions to data privacy regulation.